

CAT FLAP HAT TO BE SOLD!

By Lauren Woosey

The iconic fashion statement that was Princess Beatrice's hat is to be sold in an auction for charity. Princess Beatrice wore her bizarre hat to Prince William and Princess Kate's wedding on the 29th April.

Many of the people that watched the wedding loved Princess Beatrice's hat as it was expressive and creative. Others made fun of her Lady Gaga style hat as they thought it made the Royal Wedding look like a joke rather than a significant national occasion. Since the big day, the Princess's hat has become an internet phenomenon- with loads of spoof photos cropping up, including one showing a cat flap in the hat. (This was a very popular photo!) Her eye-popping hat is estimated to top £20,000.

Princess Beatrice's unique hat.

Lovingly created "one-off" original jewellery, using beautiful lampwork, glass and crystal beads. Items made to order to match a special outfit. Delighted to restring and repair favourite pieces you already have.

" Just for You "

Contact Fiona on 01371 870739
or nandf@lineone.net

Original Jewellery

Great Dunmow Primary Post

NATIONAL

Chris in his skirt

BOY WEARS SKIRT TO SCHOOL!?!

By LUCY HARRIS

A 12 year old boy called Chris Whitehead must have felt very strong about school uniform as he protested by wearing aSKIRT!!!!!! Boys aren't allowed to wear shorts even when its summer at his school and it was the hottest April yet. Many people from his school quoted "I'm glad he stood up to the teachers as it's not against the rules and it makes a statement." Another girl quoted "I'm not surprised he wore a skirt as they are very comfortable!"

Chris's efforts are currently being thought about by his school.

YOUNG JACK DRAWS HIMSELF A VICTORY!

By Lauren Woosey

Jack, a six year old from East Lothian, Scotland starting drawing for charity to help raise money and awareness for a hospital that helped care for his little brother Noah. His drawings have been such a success, that he has made thousands of pounds for charity, and now his popular drawings are being made into a book.

His dad set up a special website and so far Jack has raised £17,000!

The book will show off some of Jack's drawings and also raise money for a children's charity.

Jack is a third of the way through the drawings he's been

Jack and one of his pictures

GIRL GETS HIT BY LIGHTNING! LUCY HARRIS

Great Dunmow Primary Post

NATIONAL

10 year-old Erin from Wales got hit by lightning when it came through her attic window while she was watching the storm. The scar looked like a Harry Potter's scar but Erin is now calling it her lucky snowflake. Unfortunately she didn't get to stay off school and had to go there next day! It's ultra rare to get hit by a lightning bolt and around 50 people get hit each year in Great Britain .

LILY ALLEN GETS MARRIED

By Emily Moverley-Foster

Lucky Lily Allen has found her soul-mate, Sam Cooper. She got married to him whilst being pregnant! Twice before she had had a miscarriage (when you lose a baby before it is born), but this time thankfully, she hasn't.

Her father like Lily, too was a musician and walked her down the aisle before she said her vows. About 100 people were invited to the wedding and one of them was the comedian called Harry Enfield. One of Lily's bridesmaids was a TV presenter called Miquita Oliver. Lily held in her hand a pure white bouquet during the ceremony. Her dress was white with long white lace sleeves. She also had some lace flowers on her veil. The French designer commented: "It's beautiful that she is pregnant, and I am very happy for her."

The Happy Couple

Wig –Tastic

By Matilda Reijs

How many of you are Harry Potter fans? If you are and you know the cast , leading female, Emma Watson has cut Hemineys signature hair! You probably think that its old news but cast on the set leaked that she was wearing a wig in some scenes!

Once they had officially finished shooting the scenes for the final film Emma chopped her hair, however some of the final scenes weren't finished! To stop the scenes being ruined Emma had to wear a wig . In an interview with newsround Emma quoted 'The second part of the film is epic, you can't even see where I'm wearing a wig!'

So when you see part 2 of the film try and spot if

KATE THE COMMONER'S ROYAL WEDDING

By Iona Skelton

Britain's surge of support for Kate, the commoner, was massive on 29th April when she got married to Prince William, in

Kate and William's, now known as the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge, wedding was voted one of the most extravagant weddings of the century. The lovely couple met at St Andrews University in Scotland where they both studied Art History. Kate's family stayed at a hotel in London while Prince William stayed at Buckingham Palace before the wedding. There was a nervous moment when William couldn't get the ring on Kate's finger but they got there in the end! The Royal couple are happy together and the whole country is supporting them!